Academic Leadership

Summary: O'Donnell has led multiple academic and professional organisations, including CAFA, ULFA, Force11, GO::DH, and the TEI. He has chaired major digital infrastructure and policy boards, founded scholarly and advocacy groups, and served as department chair at Lethbridge. In these roles, he has consistently taken leadership during moments of structural transition and policy change.

- Past President, Confederation of Alberta Faculty Associations (CAFA), 2024–2025 Continued strategic advocacy; transitioned president role following reorganisation.
- President, CAFA, 2023–2024 Led reorganisation after loss of major member (AASUA); founded Western Regional Council; initiated successful provincial lobbying on Bill 18.
- Past President, University of Lethbridge Faculty Association (ULFA), 2023–2024 Supported transition to new leadership; advised on grievance resolution and governance rebuilding.
- President, ULFA, 2021–2023 Led six-week job action (92% strike vote, 91% ratification); rebuilt faculty governance post-strike; expanded communication strategy.

- Vice-President, ULFA, 2020–2021 Developed internal governance models; supported bargaining team formation.
- Chief Spokesperson and Bargaining Chair, ULFA, 2018–2021 Negotiated multiple collective agreements (including Navitas MOU); launched and secured approval for job action fund.
- President, Force11, 2018–2019 Oversaw launch of FORCE11 Scholarly Communication Institute (FSCI); expanded global FAIR and Open Science policy advocacy.
- Vice-President, Force11, 2013–2017 Built global partnerships in scholarly communication and infrastructure.
- Founding Director, Lethbridge Centre for the Study of Scholarly Communication, 2015–present Created institutional centre supporting interdisciplinary research and publication innovation.
- Founding Chair, Global Outlook::Digital Humanities (GO::DH), 2012–2015 Founded equity-centred digital humanities network; initiated multilingual and regional DH programs.
- Co-President, Canadian Society for Digital Humanities (CSDH/SCHN), 2010–2013 Coordinated national DH strategy and membership growth.
- Chair, Digital Initiatives Advisory Board, Medieval Academy of America, 2009–2012 Guided MAA infrastructure strategy; advised on journal and archive digitisation.
- Chair and CEO, Text Encoding Initiative (TEI), 2006–2011 Restructured TEI governance; launched member-led consortium; resolved internal staff conflict; published revised TEI Guidelines.
- Founding Director, Digital Medievalist Project, 2003–2009 Established peer-reviewed journal and infrastructure for medievalists working in digital media.
- Chair, Department of English, University of Lethbridge, 2005–2008, 2023–present Led department through curriculum overhaul, review, and hiring plan during institutional crisis; implemented new governance model.

Current Major Projects

Summary: O'Donnell is Principal Investigator on several research initiatives focused on scholarly communication, data infrastructure, and academic governance. These projects are supported by SSHRC and international partners including CERN, DARIAH, and CARL. His current work addresses how humanities research resists or reimagines dominant models of data, infrastructure, and institutional accountability.

- Resistance to Data: Humanities Approaches to Research Classification and Infrastructure (2022–present; SSHRC Insight Grant 2025–2029, PI, $300,000; SSHRC Partnership Development Grant 2022–2025, PI, $200,000) Umbrella initiative investigating epistemic and institutional resistance to structured data in the humanities. Incorporates and extends the earlier Good Things Come in Small Packages project. Includes strands in multilingual infrastructure, human-centred metadata, and knowledge equity. Collaborative partners include CERN, CARL, and DARIAH-EU.

- #safespaces? Academic Freedom and Inclusivity in an Age of Polarisation (2024–; SSHRC Insight Development Grant – applied for, PI) Investigates how political polarisation, identity politics, and campus speech discourses intersect with evolving interpretations of academic freedom in Canada and abroad.
- Humanities Innovation Lab (Internal initiative; PI) Conceptual pilot adapting laboratory-based research models to the humanities. Emphasises collaborative supervision, research planning, and the integration of graduate students into structured team-based environments.
- Lethbridge Journal Incubator (2012–2024; SSHRC Aid to Scholarly Journals Grant, PI; internal funding) A training and mentorship initiative in scholarly communication. Offers graduate students editorial experience and exposure to open infrastructure and publishing innovation.
- The Visionary Cross in Anglo-Saxon England (2005–present; SSHRC Standard Research Grant 2005–2008, PI; SSHRC Insight Grant 2014–2017, PI, $282,190; Mitacs support; Chinook Summer Research Grant, Government of Alberta, $6,000, 2025) A long-running digital edition and visualisation project focused on the Ruthwell Cross and related Insular artefacts. Integrates philological, archaeological, and imaging methodologies to interpret monumental Old English inscriptions. Outputs include multi-format visualisation environments, digital philology, and graduate student training.

Funding and Prizes

Summary: O'Donnell has received approximately CA$4 million in research funding as Principal Investigator and Co-applicant from external agencies since 2000 (CA$2 million as PI). His work spans scholarly communication, early Medieval English studies, research infrastructure, and innovation in academic publishing.

Publications

Summary: O'Donnell's publications include scholarly editions, monographs, peer-reviewed articles, invited chapters, reviews, working papers, and public-facing essays. His work spans early medieval literature, scholarly communication, and digital humanities. In addition to conventional print outputs, he has co-developed a number of alternate and novel forms of dissemination, including digital editions, interactive 3D cultural heritage projects, and experimental publishing platforms such as the Visionary Cross Project and the Lethbridge Journal Incubator.

Note on Notation: In publications, the following symbols are used: (r) = refereed article; (c) = corresponding author; (s) = student co-authors; (i) = invited submission. An asterisk after an author's name indicates the person was a student at the time of publication.
